matter who's around."

Another man said he agreed with the woman's statements, but "the kids here in Romulus have it different. It's not like it is in Canton or Garden City, these kids don't have anyplace else to go, and I think the council should have considered that before closing the park."

Mike Wojtylko, a member of the city recreation commission added his voice to that concern, stating that "we've got no youth center, no arcades, no roller rink, no theater... we've got to get someplace for these kids to go and have fun. Good clean fun."

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry, after it was suggested a meeting be initiated between the police, council and parks and recreation department to try and look for a solution, said, "I'd like to take it a step farther and invite the concerned citizens here tonight, to get their input along with everyone else's. Then we can open it as a viable park again."

Mayor McAnally said later that such a meeting was being set up tentatively for Feb. 5 at the regular meeting of the recreation commission.

Mayor-Pro-Tem Mary Ann Banks Monday said that what she has in mind is studying park regulations from other communities to "see how effectively they have dealt with this sort of problem." Of the four replies she had received by Monday, three of the cities do not allow alcoholic beverages in their parks at all, while the fourth allowed it by special permit only. Both of those suggestions have been discussed by council at the last two meetings.

"Another thing, and why no one thought of this before I don't know, but why not have 'no loitering' signs posted, which would keep the people who park and sit in their cars and drink or whatever out," Banks said.

"Anyways, I hope to see the park reopened as soon as possible. It's nothing that can't be resolved, we just want to make it a little more welcome to all of our citizens."

Not even a wind-chill factor of 50 degrees below zero kept Romulus youths from parking along Kennedy Park on Saturday, but signs put up Sunday night have changed that situation — literally overnight.

Frigid temperatures takes toll

Near record-breaking low temperatures combined with heavy wind gusts Sunday evening and early Monday morning with wind chill factors extending into the 50 degree below zero range to put the area in a deep freeze.

The cold front that swung through the metropolitan Detroit area was part of a larger one that extended from the northeast to Florida (13 degrees) to Texas (11 degrees). As of Monday evening, nine deaths in Michigan had been blamed on the sub-zero weather. Record low temperatures were set in 58 cities across the country.

Perhaps the only ones cheering the cold snap are area school children, who ended up with an extra-long weekend, as schools were closed in Romulus, Huron Township and most other area school districts in the area.

Romulus Supt. of Schools Dr. William Bedell made the decision to close the Romulus schools after hearing the weather prognosis for Monday.

Only a small section of the Roman's subscription area lost power Saturday night due to the extreme cold; some homes in Waltz and some in Carleton lost their electricity, but reportedly,

Edison had everything going before too long.

Police in Huron reported no weather-related accidents.

Saturn site possibility pleases city officials

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus, a city fighting tooth and nail to make strides in the business community, has been named as one of admittedly many communities in the running for the building of General Motors highly-touted Saturn plant.

The Saturn plant, which is expected to be built and putting out automobiles by the late 80s, could bring as many as 20,000 new jobs to the area.

County Commissioner Milt Mack, who was present at last Monday's regular meeting of the Romulus City Council said afterwards that "I like the Romulus site, and I like the Westland site, but when I speak to the county executive on the manner, I believe I'll be recommending Romulus."

General Motors is not expected to make a statement regarding the placement of the plant until spring, and it is unknown at this time if the plant will even be located in Michigan.

"What else can I say, we're simply ecstatic to even be in the running," said Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally, who, upon request, furnished Governor James Blanchard with a package containing information on the city of Romulus, including access to freeways and maps of the four possible sites within the city.

If Romulus were chosen as the Saturn site, the most likely location for the plant would be on land already owned by Wayne County, near Van Born and Merriman, a parcel which takes in 338 acres.

"It would still go on the tax rolls," McAnally said, "it would be an excellent tax resource for the city."

"We say that right now, we are 'cautiously optimistic' about the project. We're delighted just being considered like this, that a major investor and real estate brokers see that kind of potential in Romulus (to have taken out options on land)," McAnally said. "That says a lot about the way Romulus' reputation has grown, and we should all be proud of that."

When asked whether or not Romulus would be getting a "self-promoting" group together as Westland has, McAnally and community relations director Dennis Davidson agree that there probably will be a group of some type set up, but that they "wouldn't be as publicly vocal as Westland," because both feel that type of pressure will work against the community.

"One thing though," McAnally said, "if we are chosen, we (the city of Romulus) will do everything possible to facilitate the company."

Welcome to Romulus

When Governor James Blanchard stopped in the City of Romulus last Friday their was a contingent of state and local officials on hand to hear him discuss two proposals for easing the property tax burden of residents. On hand to welcome the governor to the city was Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally as well as State Rep. James Kosteva, whose 37th District includes the community. (See related story on Page A-7).

Wheel, deal-- Romulus style

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

wheeling and dealing can get pretty rough. As they say, "no quarter given, none taken."

Just a few of the 24 squares contestants may land on include Bilmar's Supermarket, the Airport Hilton Inn, Jr. Block Implements, American International Rent-a-Car or even Halecreek Elementary School itself.

Landing at City Hall tells you "good news" that quickly turns sour, because you're told that you have been left a mansion by a long-lost relative. The thing is, you must pay bank tax of $5,000 for each title card you own!

Landing on the "school" square gives you a free trip to Europe, while landing in the "park" square gives you a shortcut to selected properties.

Up to six people can play Wheeler Dealer — The Game of Romulus, and the $9.95 price includes the board; 30 property cards, 50 wheeler dealer cards, dice, a calculator card (which may come in handy for those IRS audits) and more than $2½ million in cash... well, not real cash, but in this game everyone has a chance to be a millionaire!

All of the money to put this game together was donated by community businesses and individuals, and all money raised will go for purchasing computers and software for the students at Halecreek Elementary School, which is located on Harrison Road. The limited-edition game (hurry and buy one before they're all gone!) is available at Halecreek School, Manufacturers Bank in downtown Romulus or Stearns Hardware on Middlebelt at Eureka.

For more information about the game and how to get one, call 942-0140. Games can even be delivered to your home C.O.D.!

Remember, invest wisely, borrow money only when you have to, pay your bills on time, avoid bankruptcy and, well, you'll have to find out for yourself what a "Bamboozle" card will do for you.

It's not often that a chance to help the community children offers as rewarding receipt as The Game of Romulus.

Your responses to my column are appreciated. Keep in touch with me at 41727 Joy Road, Canton, MI 48187 or (313) 455-8892. Due to space constraints, the original letter to The Letter Writer is always shortened in this column.

LATE CHARGES ASSESSED ON MORTGAGE PAYMENT AFTER 5 MONTHS!!

Dear Letter Writer:

My husband and I fell behind on our mortgage payments about seven months ago. Our mortgage company accepted our payments until the fifth month and then started assessing late charges.

We don't think we should have to pay them. Can you write a letter and help us explain our feelings on this matter. They returned our last mortgage payment and said they would not accept it without late charges.

Sincerely, RM
Dear Mortgage Company:

Enclosed please find two Money Orders in the amount of $268 each, representing the requisite payment for the months of October and November, 1984, on the referenced account.

We are in receipt of your letter of Nov. 20, 1984, in which you returned our Money Order in the Amount of $268, which money order reflected payment on our account for the month of October 1984.

Your letter indicates that in order to keep our account current, you require a check in the amount of $601.72. Our mathematical calculations indicate that this $602.72 amount reflects our October and November payments in the amount of $268.00 each, plus "Late Penalties" in the amount of $86.72.

We appreciate your latitude in allowing late mortgage payments from May to the present date, however, take exception to your assessment of retroactive late charges. We are, however, in agreement with you that you assess late charges on the October and November payments. Please accept this letter as notification that, upon written or verbal communication from you, we shall forward an additional check reflecting "late charges" for our October and November payments. We will not, however, agree to late charges for the months of May, June, July, August and September.

Should you decide to return the enclosed checks, we shall create an escrow account and deposit our monthly payments into it until this matter is resolved.

Inasmuch as it is our intention to amicably resolve this matter and keep our account current, we await notification from you as to the late charge amount for the months of October and November so that we may make prompt payment.

Sincerely, RM

RESOLUTION:

The Bank agreed to the proposals in the letter and the matter has been put to rest. The moral of this story is to avoid problems with any creditor, pay your payments by the due date or, in the alternative, contact those people you owe money to and make satisfactory arrangements before the fact.

One more time . . .

There are times, when we say "oops, we goofed," but boy, did we goof last week. We could blame it on gremlins, who snuck in and ate a portion of a word, but who would believe us. Surely not Josephine Hagen, newly sworn deputy treasurer of the City of Romulus, who was identified as Joseph. Well, we were close, except for the "ine," who was identified as Joseph, but boy, are our faces red. So, let's try again. Here's Josephine Hagen, already on the job helping Treasurer John Lewkowicz keep the city on an even keel financially. Sorry, Josephine; we promise not to make that mistake again.

AND TWO CARE BEARS FOR MELISSA PLEASE... 12-year-old Marc Hall of Romulus won a $200 shopping spree at Toys 'R' Us last month. The Show Biz Pizza place at Eureka and Dix held a drawing for the spree just before Christmas. Marc filled out one ticket (proof it only takes one to win and to his surprise - not to mention his mothers) he won! Happy Marc spent his spree wisely on six models, some paints, a remote control car and he even bought two Care Bears for his 10-year-old sister Melissa. Maybe I'll ask Marc to pick six of his favorite numbers between 1 and 40 for me.

RPAC HAS BUSY YEAR PLANNED... The Romulus Parents Area Council is collecting favorite recipes from the community to be published in a sturdy plastic bound cookbook. They plan to have this cookbook ready for sale at the Sesquicentennial Festival in May. Proceeds from the sale of this book will go into the treasury to fund projects designed to enrich the education of our Romulus youths.

If you wish to have your recipe included in this cookbook, please send your recipe to RPAC care of Pat Ditsch, 34832 Stewart, Romulus, MI 48174. Please include the name of the contributor and the recipe title. A telephone number would also be appreciated in case we have a question concerning your recipe. Telephone numbers will not be printed in the book. These books will not only support community-wide projects, they also will provide recipes to be shared among friends.

Alice Kesner is in the process of compiling a Resource Directory to be used by students for the Science Fair, which will be held from April 22 - 26. This Resource Director will provide valuable information to help students with Science Fair projects as well as providing resources for teachers to use in the future. RPAC hopes to make this Resource Director a useful tool in Sciencing. If you are willing to have your name or your company's name listed in this book and to answer students questions in your area of Science, contact Alice at 941-1825.

Also planned is the Annual Essay Contest, which will be completed on Education Day, May 23. Working in cooperation with the Sesquicentennial Committee and the Historical Society as well as Romulus Area Parents and Schools, RPAC will base the Essay Contest on an historical theme of the history of Romulus. All available information and resources are being collected and duplicated to be sent to the Romulus School Libraries. Also needed are Human Resources such as long term residents and other persons having information concerning the history of Romulus to be used as contacts and/or speakers to aid students in researching the areas of Romulus history that hold interest for them.

If you are interested in giving information to help our students write award winning essays, please contact me immediately, Kristine, at 942-0919. All essays entered in the contest will be duplicated and donated to the Romulus Historical Society.

A Fire Hydrant Painting Contest is on the agenda, too. The date has not been set as yet.

Any person wishing to join RPAC, please attend our next meeting at 7 p.m. February 7th at the Board of Education Office, 36540 Grand Road, Romulus.

DON'T PUT IT OFF ANOTHER DAY... Call me right now with information about your group. Kristine 942-0919.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Stevie Glenn

A versatile athlete who stars in football as well as basketball, 5-11 guard Stevie Glenn has been one of the star players of the successful Romulus High basketball team this season. Glenn's 26-foot jump shot with four seconds left on the clock enabled the Eagles to nip arch-rival, Ypsilanti, 62-61 last week. McDonald's is proud to salute this young athlete as its "Athlete of the Week."

Jim Schlener

Only a sophomore, 126-pound Jim Schlener is raising a lot of eyebrows as he has proved he is one of the finest wrestlers in the area, if not the state. Jim has amassed a 27-6 won-lost record en route to winning the Romulus Invitational and placing second only to Salem's Dave Dameron (who finished second in the state a year ago) at the Monroe Invitational. A 126-pound grappler, Schlener has an outstanding future on the mats, according to coach Wayne Schimming.

McAnally appointed to Wayne-Metro agency board

Three Western Wayne County mayors have been appointed by Wayne County Executive William Lucas to the Board of Directors of the Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services Agency.

The appointment of Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally, Westland Mayor Charles Pickering and Inkster Mayor Betty Miller, along with seven other mayors was recently approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The appointments are for one-year terms.

The appointments call attention to the enormous county-wide emergency food distribution program successfully orchestrated by Wayne-Metro, the largest distributor of emergency food and shelter to low income, elderly, and handicapped citizens.

Lucas is proud of the food distribution program the Agency handles for Wayne County.

"Our system runs so smoothly and efficiently that it is becoming renowned as the model program for federal surplus commodities. Only the most responsible and sensitive people should be handling emergency food for hungry families," Lucas said.

"We have had wonderful cooperation from cities and organizations all across the county from the very beginning. Harold Hass of City Foods alone has arranged for the contribution of more than 100,000 pounds of turkey products for the poor. Employee groups from Ford Motor, Security Bank, automobile unions, religious groups and even Senior Citizen gardeners have generously given thousands of pounds of food to supplement the federal commodities."

Luther J. Flanagan, executive director of the Ecorse-based Agency said: "We have an awesome responsibility to the people living in our 42 communities. Hunger hurts. A hungry person suffers body pains immediately when they haven't eaten. Prolonged hunger and malnutrition can cause permanent harm."

Wayne Metro has been distributing food on a large scale since February 1982.

"Executive Lucas showed his faith in us by designating our agency as the official food distributor to all of Wayne County, exclusive of Detroit, only a few weeks after he was elected. Since then, the agency has been the main distributor for USDA surplus commodities, UAW/GM Care and Share Project, Michigan Department of Social Services Emergency Food and Shelter Projects, the Federal Emergency Management Administrations (FEMA) Emergency Food and hundreds of tons of food donated from our private sources," he said.

Edna Jackson, President of Wayne Metro's Board of Directors said: "We think it is very impressive that Wayne Metro, in cooperation with the 42 communities in its service area, provided over 1.8 million units of service to 242,869 individuals last year.

"In addition, we have documented that 7,191 volunteers have donated 84,738 hours and mileage and materials valued at over $385,000; 112 sites voluntarily provide food by giving supplies from food pantries, operating community dining sites, and by distributing the federal surplus and donated food."

The centerpiece of the system is the Food Center, located in Westland, in a three-story, 73,000-square foot building donated by Wayne County, which provides an enormous food storage capacity.

The success of this system is motivating officials to begin a new project aimed at meeting a broader range of needs of the poor. Lucas is now asking Mr. Flanagan and his agency to begin including non-food items in the distributed units.

Items such as tooth paste, soap, toiletries, clothes and medicine cannot be purchased with food stamps, but are essential to the overall health of poor families," Lucas said. "We are therefore asking for donations of these items, along with canned goods, to supplement our food distributions."

Wayne Metro Community Services Agency is prepared to distribute all donations received into every community in Wayne County excluding Detroit, which has its own program. Arrangements for all donations can be made by calling 843-2550 or 728-7510.

YW hosts travel day

The YWCA of Western Wayne County winter travel day schedule is guaranteed to help overcome winter blues.

Wednesday, Jan. 30, travelers will depart from the YW at 9:30 a.m., returning at 5:30, for a full day at historic Holly, Michigan. Holly was the focal point of Michigan's railroad industry in the 19th century and it was at Battle Alley that Carrie Nations made her attack on railroaders and "demon rum."

Travelers will have a Victorian luncheon feast at the Holly Hotel, shop on Battle Alley and stop at the Davisburg Candle Factory, after a motor trip complete with coffee and donuts. The tour is offered to YW members at $34. Reservations should be confirmed immediately.

There hasn't been much snow locally this winter, so the Agawa Canyon "Snow Train," to Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, will be a real treat. The three-day weekend, Feb. 15-17, is priced at $179 double occupancy. The trip includes round-trip motorcoach, refreshments enroute, two nights at the Empire Inn in Sault Ste. Marie, the eight-hour train ride through Algoma Central Country, two breakfasts, two dinners, welcome party, tax, tips, baggage handling and a travel agency guide. A deposit of $25 should be made immediately.

A matinee theatre party to Westgate Dinner Theatre is the Travel Day attraction for Wed., Feb. 27. The bus leaves the YW at 9:30 a.m. for Toledo. Buffet luncheon precedes a performance of "Fiddler on the Roof" with return scheduled for 5 p.m. This all inclusive day, including refreshments on the bus, is offered at $30. Reservations must be confirmed with payment by Feb. 13.

Mail registration requests to the YWCA of Western Wayne County, 26279 Michigan Ave., Inkster 48141. For further information call 561-4110.

Contest winners honored

Each year the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution holds a Good Citizen contest for outstanding seniors from various high schools.

On Sunday, Jan. 6, a "Get Acquainted Tea" to meet with the students and their mothers was held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Kellas of Ypsilanti Township.

Those being honored by the Ypsilanti Chapter of the DAR attending with their mothers were Ronda Lilly of Faithway Baptist High School, Paula Pifer of Lincoln High School, Joy Fagan of Calvary Christian Academy and Jennifer Peper of Ypsilanti High School.

Unable to attend were Betty Richendollar of Belleville High School, Amy Young of Willow Run High School and David DiPasquale of Brimley High School.

Ypsilanti DAR chapter members on hand to assist the hostess and meet with the guests were Mrs. Daniel McGuire of Ypsilanti, chapter regent, and Mildred Artley of Belleville.

On Sunday, Jan. 27, all seven students will be honored by the Ypsilanti Chapter at the Ladies Literary Club in Ypsilanti.

Firm marks birthday

The Wingate Management Corporation will be having a very special birthday celebration on Jan. 25 at the Romulus Towers in Romulus.

The two-hour party is being held to mark the firm's 10th year of providing housing for more than 4,000 senior citizens at 17 apartment complexes managed by the corporation in the tri-county area.

Residents of the Towers will be invited to join in the celebration, which will be held from 2 to 4 p.m.

Heat Bank announced

Officials of Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services Agency and MichCon have announced that Heat Bank, a company-sponsored heating assistance program to help needy Michigan residents this winter, began operations Jan. 7.

This is the third year for Heat Bank. The program is funded this winter by a $1 million MichCon allocation in heating credits, and through contributions from MichCon customers and the general public. Additionally, MichCon will match up to $500,000 of its customers' contributions.

Wayne Metropolitan Community Services is administering Heat Bank in the Wayne County area, excluding the City of Detroit. In Detroit, Neighborhood Services Department is administering the heating assistance program.

Eligible for Heat Bank assistance are low-income senior citizens who are 60 years of age or older, the handicapped or disabled, and long-term unemployed. Those applying for Heat Bank must have received a shut-off notice or have been turned off for nonpayment and exhausted all other sources of energy assistance.

Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services will interview applicants by appointment, confirm eligibility and determine the amount required to restore or maintain heating service.

MichCon residential heating customers in Wayne County, excluding the City of Detroit, who are eligible can apply for Heat Bank assistance by calling the Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services Agency at 843-2550. Persons will be referred to the intake site nearest them.

Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services and MichCon stress that donations from MichCon customers, civic groups and the general public are critical to the continuance of the program. Last year, contributions totaled $360,000. All contributions are tax deductible.

Donations from MichCon customers and MichCon matching heating credits are allocated to the communities where contributions originate, providing donors with the opportunity to help their neighbors. All funds received are distributed to those in need and are not used for administrative costs.

Fuel aid available

munity Services Agency, a private non-profit community action agency serving low-income persons in Wayne County outside of the City of Detroit, has announced the start of the Targeted Fuel Assistance Program.

The federally funded program is administered statewide by the Michigan Department of Labor/Bureau of Community Services through the Community Action Agencies.

The Targeted Fuel Assistance Program will provide up to $200 in fuel assistance payments to those low-income households with high heating costs in relation to income.

Beginning Jan. 15, low-income households may apply for the one-time assistance on a first-come, first-served basis. To apply, households must show proof of: — Household income for past three months;

— Utility bill/account number; — Social security numbers for all household members 18 years and over; and — Proof of rent amount if heat is included in rent.

For more information on how to apply, residents of Wayne County, excluding the City of Detroit, should call 843-2550 during business hours. Outside of Wayne County, call the Energy Hotline at 1-800-292-4704.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Thomas Anderson

ARTHRITIS JOINT PAIN

Chiropractic offers a natural approach for easing arthritic joint pains. This healing program eases pressure on any nerves affecting the body part in distress. Since all nerves originate in the spinal cord, excessive pressure may erupt as arthritic joint pain.

The arthritic suffers because of inflammation of one or more of the synovial joints between vertebrae. This leads to partial misalignment of one or more spinal vertebrae. An out-of-position vertebra needs to be gently manipulated back into place. This technique quickly relieves pain.

Spinal manipulation is only one of various methods used by your chiropractor to relieve arthritic joint pains. Prescribed exercise, postural pointers, nutrition, weight maintenance, and rest may be recommended, too.

In search of Saturn

Where will General Motors Corp. locate its proposed Saturn automotive plant?

With some 20 sites reportedly in contention, the selection process promises to be a hotly contested one, especially since an expected 6,000 jobs are at stake. At least two of the locations under consideration are situated in western Wayne County — one near the Westland Medical Center in Westland and the other on industrially-zoned land near the airport in Romulus.

We commend community leaders in Westland and Romulus for their aggressive approach toward landing this monumental project. Western Wayne County has much to offer developers in terms of natural resources, accessibility and labor force.

Of course, the primary concern should be to insure the construction of the automotive complex in Michigan. Secondly, we feel that a strong case can be made for locating the plant in either Westland or Romulus.

During the next few months community officials — state, county and local — will attempt to convince GM of the merits of the various sites. It will be a time of promotion, communication and negotiation. To the victor will go a major development and the positive sidelights that accompany such a project, including the uplifted morale and sense of pride throughout the community.

GM may or may not decide to locate Saturn locally. However, the fact that several sites in Western Wayne County are considered viable locations for such a development bodes well for the future of this area. The key then is to turn potential real estate resources into a real source of industrial and commercial growth.

That process will require a well thought out game plan at the local level as well as a good dose of perseverance and aggressiveness.

Idealists

There is something appealing, at least to me, about the wide-eyed "idealist". The charm seems to be, I guess, their continued subscription to convictions that the "realists" have long since discounted.

Journalists are notorious for ingesting textbook theorems that don't hold up under the light of everyday work realities. College professors who "can't", as the old saying goes, "teach". They seem to teach our young without much regard for the realities of the real workplace. The young they instruct have that innocent charm and naivete that makes one nostalgic and reminiscent of days gone by when we, too, believed it all.

For example, I have a terrible headache ...my friend is complaining about her aches again...and my enemy is a hypochondriac who will say anything to get out of a little work. My child who only got a C on his math exam is simply not being challenged in the class ...my friend's child who got the same grade, just can't keep up, poor thing ...and my enemy's child just doesn't pay attention and really isn't very bright. My office might need a little tidying up, my friend's, however, needs a good cleaning, and my enemy's is a total disaster and proof of his disorganization.

"Ideally," of course, such semantic interpretations shouldn't occur but realists accept that they do. The innocent idealist sees an ideal that they "know" is a good one and therefore it "has to work." The realist has learned there are two kinds of good ideas — ones that work and ones that don't work.

Those who want to believe and accept on face value the word of others are prey for the would-be con artists of the world. Sadly, those ex-idealists who have been repeatedly lied to, betrayed, misled and sold out become something more than realists. They become cynics, skeptics, pessimists, naysayers and do-nothings. They become experts at revealing all 10 reasons any given idea won't work. (Apparently they don't know it only takes one.) They can second guess others with great expertise. They can watch others' attempts, invariable ready to leap in and tell all how they knew from the start it wouldn't work.

They have become sad specimens of humanity who once were willing to take a chance but have since lapsed into being a political animal who likes to play the "fox" — dazzling others with their cunning. They gloat with pride that they didn't act and therefore make an error that might have proved embarrassing.

This disease of the mind is not a matter of chronological age. It can affect the old and the not so old, but only those suffering from this deadly pestilence can cure themselves.

Power struggle

To the Editor:

In a recent edition of one of our metropolitan newspapers, an article entitled "Work Rules Aid Teachers in Disputes" appeared. Mr. George Trudell, union official, stated that he does not see it as being productive when workers capitulate to threats of losing their jobs when they strike, therefore implying that the "work to rule" concept is the better idea.

I strongly disagree with this avenue of thinking and the havoc it is creating in the lives of the children teachers were hired to educate. These tactics certainly do not coerce Board of Education members who see the neglect and rejection of the students by these actions of the teachers. The work to rule concept is a hindrance to teachers who are dedicated to helping their youngsters and is a crutch to others who do not have the welfare of the children at heart.

Being the Vice-President of the Westwood Board of Education, I am appalled at the non-caring attitude of people who are supposed to be molding the educational lives of our children. In my opinion, the lack of a contract is not the primary cause of these negative teacher actions. The fault, as I see it, is that the negotiating methods of the union are not geared to conciliation but rather is a one sided power struggle by persons who are ego tripping instead of negotiating in good faith. When the Teacher's Union placed a 15% raise on the table in February of 1984 and have not changed their position one iota, except to sarcastically state that they might consider 14.9%, the board has no alternative but to stand pat after making three alternative offers to the union. I am sure the contracts could have been settled a long time ago if the union was truly interested in serious negotiations.

Because of the neglect I see our students suffering daily, I am more and more inclined to not try to settle the contract. I feel our students are being thoroughly exploited by the very people who are supposed to care for their future. The atrocious M.E.A.P. testing scores our students received recently strongly points up the fact that our children are the scape goats in this farce called education. There are no excuses in this world which can justify the lack of knowledge our students have in their basic subjects. They are simply not being taught, in my opinion.

It is my desire to see a fair and equitable contract executed for our teachers. However, a fair and equitable education for our students is my top priority and I intend to fight for their rights and for the fulfillment of the parent's desire to see their children receive the type of education their tax dollars are paying for.

The opinions expressed here are solely mine and do not reflect the opinion of other Board members.

Special gifts

To the Editor:

On behalf of the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club, I would like to extend our appreciation to all the elves who helped with our Giving Tree Project to insure that Santa had special gifts for over 100 children in the Van Buren Public Schools.

We wish to thank your publication for its help in publicity, and the Van Buren Schools for supplying children's names and distributing the gifts.

Because the gifts are distributed by building principals in the elementary schools, our deadline to return presents is always quite early, to allow us time to sort packages and distribute to the schools before vacation begins. This year we owe thanks for some very special people who provided gifts after all ornaments were taken and without whom we could not have served each child.

Mr. Joe Flint and the Wayne County Road Commission supplied a number of watches, and Doreen Scudder donated several lovely Cabbage Patch dolls. Without these special elves we would not have been able to deliver a gift for each youngster before Christmas.

We also want to extend public thanks to NBD in Belleville, which cooperates fully every year, and to the many others who took an ornament or two and promptly returned gifts. We look forward to continuing next year with this very rewarding project.

Nancy Sawyer,
Belleville

Proud of officers

To the Editor:

This letter is for the purpose of directing your attention to Romulus Police Officer Rick Schwartz and Tom Ellis. Both are examples of city employees Romulus can be proud to have.

On Friday, December 21, 1984, a fire broke out in one of Oakbrook units while both men were bidding Christmas greetings to our staff. When a fire truck turned into the complex, they responded immediately going to the scene of the fire.

Officer Schwartz helped connect the fire hoses while Tom Ellis alerted the residents of the building that a unit in their building was ablaze and suggested they take other shelter temporarily.

I feel the expediency of their actions stopped a fire quickly, which could have otherwise done much more damage. Their care to my residents is gratifying. I feel that the examples these two set as public servants of the City of Romulus should not go unnoticed.

Bad check policy

To the Editor:

On Dec. 31, 1984 my husband and I went shopping at a store located on the corner of Warren and Inkster Rd. in Dearborn Heights. I purchased $36.57 worth of merchandise and I asked the cashier if they would accept a personal check. She said they would so I wrote a check for the exact amount and gave it to her along with the required ID such as drivers license, Mastercard and Visa.

She in turn returned the check to me and said she was very sorry but they had orders from the manager not to accept personal checks from any person living in Inkster, apparently because a few from Inkster have written checks and did not have the funds in the bank to cover them.

I find it very embarrassing and discriminating to stand in line along with other people and be accused of writing bad checks because I live in Inkster. My husband and I were both angry and after discussing the matter with the manager left the store with the feeling that it was easier for him to accuse than to make a simple phone call.

We are not in the habit of writing bad checks and obviously he didn't think so either or he wouldn't have accepted our previous checks. Evidently the manager must think that all of us who live in Inkster have nothing better to do than go around writing bad checks.

Watch out Garden City, Dearborn, Livonia and Dearborn Heights. I don't suppose any of you have ever written a bad check.

Governor outlines tax relief

The response appears to be favorable to two recent tax proposals offered by Gov. James Blanchard at a press conference held last Friday in Romulus.

The Governor, as part of a whirlwind tour of the state, stopped in the Western Wayne County community briefly to discuss a major review of the state's tax structure, recently completed by State Treasurer Robert Bowman.

According to Blanchard, preliminary findings indicate that Michigan's property tax "is the most burdensome of our state taxes" and that the state "has the highest average local property taxes in the nation — double the national average."

"With our state's restored credit rating, and our tight budgeting practices, your state government is now in a position to finance a significant new reduction in local property taxes," he said. "Michigan's current property tax rebate program is one of the nation's most successful efforts to reduce the tax burden of local homeowners and renters."

"It returns more total dollars to the taxpayers than any other state property tax rebate program in the nation. Despite the size of this property tax rebate program — $644 million in rebates this year — and the number of people who receive rebates — 1.5 million families — many people still don't know how the program works."

To that end, the governor has asked that the state's successful confidential Taxpayer Hotline provide information about the property tax rebate or about any other aspect of state taxes.

The governor also will ask the State Legislature to add a 10 percent rebate bonus to the existing property tax rebate program, giving homeowners and renters and additional $65 million in new tax relief in fiscal 1986.

"The $65 million is our estimated ending balance for Fiscal Year 1986," Blanchard pointed out. "Like last year, it is my intention to insist upon budget discipline so that we are able to provide property tax relief."

"And, an improved economy will allow for an even greater property tax bonus."

"With our successful recovery program straightening out our state finances and permitting another state income tax cut to occur sometime this fall, it is now time to attack the most burdensome tax of all — the local property tax," he added. "I look forward to working with the legislature to bring about his property tax rebate bonus program this year."

Freshman lawmaker James Kosteva (D-37th District) praised the Governor's proposal, noting that "with the inflation of the '70s, the recent recession and the pressure of local school needs, Western Wayne County property owners have been hit between the eyes with the tax increases."

He also lauded Blanchard's proposal to increase state funding for education by between $150 and 180 million during the fiscal year, calling the initiatives compatible with the needs of residents of his legislative district.

"In this fashion homeowners and renters will see the property tax relief directly," Kosteva commented after the Governor's visit. "This is something I am deeply committed to. When I campaigned within the 37th District there were far more residents concerned with reducing property taxes than the income tax. It's the most unfair tax."

Others can only attempt to serve as a catalyst to help aid them. Such "cowards of thought" have to want to be cured.

"And a little child shall lead them..." the Bible says. Once we lose the innocent idealism of the childhood state, we lose the ability to believe in the impossible dream. We lose the ability to possibly think. We lose the ability to dream, to hope, to plan, to innovate. With skeptics and know-it-alls you have no future.

Give me idealists and I'll teach them realism. With them the future will know no bounds.

January

It's winter time make no mistake.
The ground is covered white.
The soft and fluffy snow we see
Sparkles in the light.

A grayish cloudy dawn we greet
Is heavy laden there.
To shower crystal diamonds
In the trees so dark and bare.

It's a lonely time of season
When the cold bars up our doors.
The frost upon the window pane
Sends chills throughout our pores.

Flames within the fireplace,
Sends warmth in all direction.
Children at their games and play
Aware of home's affection.

When at times they're out to play,
In sleds on ice they slide.
Their mittened hands get cold and blue
And soon they're back inside.

What matters then if boys and girls
With smiling faces merry,
Through frosty winds blow hard and long
Through the month of January?

Carter resigns as Wayne grid coach
Veteran coach is hired by Crestwood

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Managing Editor
After 13 years of patrolling the sidelines as football coach at Wayne Memorial, Floyd Carter is preparing for a new challenge at Crestwood High.
Carter, who recently resigned from his grid post in Wayne, has accepted the head varsity football position at Crestwood, a Class B school which competes in the Tri-River Conference. A successor to Carter at Wayne Memorial is expected to be named next month.

'I was personally down after the season,' Carter admitted, referring to the Zebras' disappointing 2-7 campaign in 1984. 'I saw an old friend, Fred Hodges, at the Fordson-Henry Ford game (state playoffs) and he told me he was getting ready to get out as Crestwood coach. Then he started telling me about the program... the more he talked, the more I listened.

'At Crestwood they have a five-year program, starting in the eighth grade,' Carter explained. 'The head coach is in total charge of the program; at Wayne Memorial the ninth grade is separate from the high school.'
A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, where he played football for Coach Dan Boisture, Carter will continue to teach at Wayne Memorial, his alma

In SAC driver's seat

2,000 fans see Inkster rip Robichaud

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer
They had to shut the doors at Dearborn Heights Robichaud long before Inkster took to the hard wood. The game was to determine Suburban Athletic Conference supremacy. For, more than 2,000 fans showed up for the classic and there was no available room inside and hundreds stood outside in the sub-zero arctic freeze.
For the 2,000 who saw the game, few went away disappointed as Inkster stood off a determined Robichaud 78-71 to win its third straight SAC decision, and seventh victory in eight outings.

'We're in the driver's seat,' Coach George Thompson said, thanks to the Vikings' victory and an upset of previously undefeated Willow Run at the hands of Highland Park. 'But, in order to stay in the car we're going to have to improve. That's all there is to it. We still have Ecorse and Willow Run to contend with.'
Inkster was to meet Ecorse (weather permitting) Tuesday night and then travel to Willow Run on Friday.
Robichaud refused to quit Friday night and hung in the battle right up to the final minutes. Robichaud's Jarvis Walker and Omar Galbrath who scored 22 and 18 points for the Bulldogs, kept the hosts in the game.
Walker paced the Bulldogs initial attack as he led the home team to a 17-14 advantage after the first period. They managed to stay in front by the narrowest of margins 41-40 at intermission. However, the Vikings quickly erased the deficit by scoring the first five points of the second half, then keeping a precarious lead with 18-12 and 20-18 scoring advantages for the two last periods.
'I felt that we were going to blow it open,' Thompson commented, 'but we just couldn't muster enough scoring power. Robichaud, to its credit, just hung in there.'

Shawn Lloyd and William Springer teamed up to give the Vikings their margin of victory as Shawn connected on eight points and hauled down six rebounds while Springer fired in three key jump shots. Anthony White and Sherard Lloyd picked up the slack as they contributed 18 points and 16 points to provide balanced scoring.
'We got good contributions from our bench,' said Thompson, 'and Barry Hardy helped out on the boards. We needed this victory but, like I've said, this season is a long ways of being over.'
Inkster humiliated reigning Class B state champ, Oak Park, 80-52, as Lloyd tossed in 28 points and White accounted for 12 while Springer got 10.

Reaching for it

Stretching to grab this off-target pass is Glenn's Ron Taig (40) during Friday night's confrontation with Garden City. The Westlanders were off-target as well, losing a close 41-38 decision to their conference rivals. The Story is on Page 2-B.

Glenn gymnasts 9th at Dearborn

With some of the finest high school girls' gymnastics teams in the field, Westland John Glenn scored 115.15 points and finished ninth at the prestigious Dearborn High Invitational.
'This was our best finish and the most points we have ever scored over there at Dearborn,' said Glenn Coach Jean Hawley. 'Our girls competed against the best in the state.'
Freeland, considered the No. 1 Class A team in Michigan this year, captured top honors while Troy Adams was runner-up. Glenn was represented at the Dearborn Invitational by Marcy Diepeveen, Karen Dziubek, Julie Fitch, Susie Gibson, Dawn Giuliani, Renee Henry, Jamie Koestner, Val Prowse, Sheri Schimmell, Lori Spiers, Lisa Svitkovich, Tanya Verdis, April Vortman, Marie Wells and Jane Matthews.
In her eight year as coach, Jean Hawley says that the program at Glenn has progressed rapidly over a short period of time.
'We're competing against some teams that have a 12-month program,' Coach Hawley adds. 'And we're doing quite well. And a lot of credit also has to be given to assistant coach Pam Yockey who is nationally recognized for her gymnastics' abilities.'
The Rockets have piled up a 3-1 over-all record. They have defeated Trenton 112.2 to 101.3 and Hartland 115.15 to 96.3. At a triangular meet, the Westlanders lost to Salem (122.5) but beat Canton (107.5).

Garden City derails Rockets

By KEITH A. DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

Call it "Dropp's Revenge". Call it a game you certainly wouldn't write home about. But one thing you can call last Friday evening's encounter between the Rockets of Westland John Glenn and the Garden City Cougars was a 41-38 victory that helped propel the latter into a two-way tie for the Northwest Suburban League lead.

"As badly as we shot, we were still in the game. When we got the lead, we spread it out," said Rocket Coach Gordie Davis, who suffered his second NWSL loss in the last five years of coaching. "It's going to be this way the rest of the way when it comes to league games."

The game itself was certainly reminiscent of last year's battle when the Rockets overcame a 14-point deficit and won by a point in overtime on Todd Stein's free throw.

Stein was not there last night (he's now a student at Michigan State University) but his parents were and what they saw was Garden City build a 17-8 lead by the 6:33 mark of the second quarter.

For awhile, it looked like the Cougars would run the Rockets out of their own building. Every Garden City starter tallied at least a bucket and forward Skip Barnett (So., 6-5, 165) and center Dave Wegzyn (Sr., 6-6, 175) had four apiece.

But, in the tradition of Glenn athletics, the Rockets refused to give up. Back they came in the second quarter as they began using their inside muscle and inflicting fouls on the Cougars.

"We did a nice job coming back," said Davis, "especially with Gerry (Diette-Spiff) playing like he did."

The Rockets hit six of those 12 free throw attempts (indicative of their 50 percent shooting for the entire game) but the key to the quarter and comeback was the stellar play of junior center Diette-Spiff (6-6, 165).

Diette-Spiff, inserted into the line-up early in the quarter, brought the house down with 2:30 left. Taking a pass from guard Mike Baydarian, he whirled to the hoop and slammed it through for two points. On top of that, he was fouled and hit the ensuing free throw that gave Glenn a 20-19 lead.

If there was a bright spot in this loss, it was that Gerry Diette-Spiff made himself an integral part of the Rocket basketball machine for some time to come.

"It was his best game he's played since the beginning of the season," said Davis. "His blocks and rebounding sparked us in the second quarter."

Defense enables Romulus to dethrone Oak Park, 60-50

Defending champ Oak Park turned in its best game of the season but it didn't stop title-bound Romulus which utilized a swarming full-court press to come-from-behind and win a 60-50 decision in the Metro-West basketball conference Friday night.

Oak Park, which captured the Class B state title a year ago, was the only conference team to beat Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles during the 1983-84 campaign.

"We really went after them in the second half," Wilkerson noted. "They only got six field goals the final two periods and we'd have to attribute that to our excellent over-all defense."

"We are playing defense the way you need to in order to win games," Wilkerson said.

Sparked by Joe Milton, who scored all of his six points in the first period, the Parkers jumped to a 19-17 first period lead and held on at intermission 31-29. However, Romulus's 6-9 pivotman Terry Mills, joined by Jaun Street and Stevie Glenn, turned on the pressure and took control of the boards and the situation.

Before the shooting was all over Mills had a game-high 25 points, 15 rebounds and nine blocked shots. He's now swatted away 84 shots for 10 games this season.

Street, a sophomore, contributed 12 points while Glenn added 10.

"We played our best game of the year," said Oak Park coach Dick Griest. "However, we just couldn't stop Mills."

The victory boosted the Eagles' record to 8-2 on the season and 2-0 in the league. They will host league rival, Taylor Truman, Friday night and play a rare Saturday night game at neighboring Belleville.

Earlier in the week Glenn's 27-foot jump shot with four seconds remaining lifted Romulus to a cliffhanging 62-61 victory over Ypsilanti. Romulus

Zebras head for 'pit'

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Managing Editor

Wayne Memorial will face its biggest test of the season Friday in the Fordson gym, better known to basketball rivals as the "pit."

The Zebras, now 10-0 on the season, defeated Fordson, 71-45, earlier in the campaign but winning on the road will not be easy. During the past decade no Wayne Memorial squad has ventured into the Fordson gym and come out a victor.

"It's basically psychological," said Chuck Henry in explaining Wayne's woeful record at Fordson. "First of all, they're hard to play anywhere because they're generally a good team, they average 16-17 wins a year. They get good crowd support and the bleachers are close to the floor, giving the place an amphitheater effect."

Wayne continued its dominant play on the hardwood last week, thumping previously unbeaten Edsel Ford, 89-58, and Wolverine A Conference rival Monroe, 86-49, in home contests.

Edsel Ford simply proved no match for the Zebras despite early foul trouble for Wayne's two big men, 6-6 Pollis Robertson and 6-5 Jim Todoroff. Robertson and Todoroff each sat out a good portion of the second period and then both drew their fourth personal early in the third quarter.

"Our biggest reserve is 6-1 and they have two 6-5 players," explained Henry. "We had the lead up to 17 points in the second period and they cut it to 11 at the half. Then we went up by 20 and they cut it down again."

"Howard Flowers shot well... he kept us in the game in the first half," the coach said.

Flowers paced the Zebras with 25 points, 17 in the first half, as he netted 12 of 20 shots from the floor and hit his only free throw attempt. Robertson added 17 points (eight of 10 from the field) and David Reynolds canned 13. Todoroff finished with eight.

Leading 59-46 heading into the final quarter, the Zebras broke matters open by outscoring their Dearborn visitors, 30-12, in the fourth period. A 51-25 Wayne advantage in rebounds, despite the foul problems, proved to be the "real key" to the victory, Henry said.

Earlier in the week Wayne ran its league mark to 5-0 by destroying Monroe behind Robertson's 32 points and 17 rebounds. Flowers chipped in with 18 points.

To date the Zebras have enjoyed an average victory margin of 77-49 in compiling their perfect record.

Now it's time to take on second-place Fordson (4-1 in the conference) in the "pit." Junior varsity action starts at 6 p.m. with the varsity battle to follow.

Belleville to host high-flying Eagles

Belleville became the first and thus far the only victim of the arctic freeze that swept the state over the weekend as Coach Leon Birdyshaw and his Tigers were sidelined Friday night.

"Trenton called us and said it would be impossible to stage our game," Birdyshaw said, "so it was cancelled until further notice."

"We'll try to reschedule the game later on in the season," he added.

Belleville also was scheduled to meet Wolverine "A" rival, Monroe, Tuesday night and that game was "on hold" until it could be learned whether classes will be conducted in the school district.

Tigers second best at Canton tourney

Undeclared in dual meets this season, Belleville grapplers ran up against Lakeshore Stevenson at the 8-team Plymouth Canton Invitational Saturday and were forced to settle for a second place.

Coach Gerry Malacek's Tigers picked up three gold medals and 168½ points to finish behind Lakeshore which had 186½ points. The host, Canton, was seated in fourth with 125 points.

"I felt we wrestled fairly well," said Malacek whose teams have dominated the Wolverine "A" Conference. "But we

Salem edges Romulus for Monroe Invitational mat title

Leaving the field far behind, Plymouth Salem and Romulus finished 1-2 at the Jeff Hicks Memorial Wrestling Invitational held over the weekend at Monroe High.

Salem amassed 152½ points as compared to Romulus's 148½ to walk off the mats as the team champion. The Rocks also stood out in the 126-pound class where Dave Dameron outwrestled Jim Schlener of Romulus 16-10 to capture the gold medal.

Romulus continued to shine in the heavyweight class where Tracy Cline picked up a gold by pinning Salem's Marc Cygon in the finals. The Eagles also had the best 98-pounder at the tourney in Joel Mabelitini who stopped Salem's Dennis Dameron.

Romulus also received another sparkling effort from its 167-pounder Vince Morris who took a gold by beating Tecumseh's Bob Bagby in 1:52, and Bob ODay wrapped up a first place for the Eagles with a thrilling 11-9 decision over Monroe's Catholic Central's Larry Kreps.

Diette-Spiff completed his second quarter heroics at the 0:01 mark with a basket that gave the Rockets a 22-21 half-time lead.

But Cougar coach Bob Dropp, who has been through several of these Glenn-Garden City contests before and has gained several grey hairs to prove it, brought his team back after halftime and they calmly took the lead with six minutes left in the third quarter.

After Dave Jensen hit a bucket to give Glenn a 24-21

On Saturday, Belleville will host neighboring rival, Romulus, which has racked up an impressive 8-2 over-all record.

"They're a fine ball club," Birdyshaw offered, "and, obviously, when you have a player like Terry Mills in your line-up you're going to be able to do so many things."

Mills, the 6-9 Romulus center, is considered the No. 1 junior cager in the country this year. He's averaging 25-points plus per game.

Belleville managed to give Dearborn Fordson, a perennial Class A state cage power, problems before succumbing 56-51 to Coach Jim McIntyre's Tractors.

Wesley Currie sank the first basket and gave the Tigers the lead, however, that was the only time that the local cagers were in front as Fordson came back and outscored them 15-11 and 11-9 in the first two periods.

The Tractors, led by forward Dan McDougall who scored a game high 18 points, never managed more than an 8 point lead throughout the game. Ahead 26-20 at the half, they increased the margin to 40-32 at the three-quarters mark before the Tigers came back and outscored them 10-7 in the last period.

Chris Grantham scored 12 points before fouling out for the Tigers and teammates Willis and Keeney contributed 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Up for two

Driving in for this rare lay-up Friday night is John Glenn's Steve Hawley (22) who got only five points against a tenacious Garden City defense. Hawley and his teammates lost a turnover-filled 41-38 decision that forced them to hand over a share of the North-west Suburban Conference lead.

Belleville ends Wayne win streak

Belleville took six out of a possible 11 first places, including both the 200 yard medley and 400 yard freestyle relay to hand Wayne Memorial its first setback of the 1985 Wolverine "A" Conference swimming season.

The Tigers also received a double victory from Greg Lynch who touched in first for the 200-yard freestyle and also placed first in the 100-yard freestyle.

The 44-39 victory kept Belleville in the thick of the conference title race, while it was the first defeat in six outings for the Zebras, who have victories over league rivals Lincoln Park, 124-49, and Dearborn Fordson, 105-66.

Wayne will return to the pool 7 p.m. Thursday to host league foe, Trenton. The meet also has been designated as Parents' Night for the Zebras.

The cookies are coming!

Girl Scouts get ready for annual sale of savored sweets

Got a craving for lemon pastry creme cookies? How about peanut butter patties or pecan chocolate chip? Then again, thin mints or shortbreads might go good with the mid-morning cup of coffee.

Yep, you guessed it. It's that time again ... time for the 26th annual Huron Valley Girl Scout Council cookie sale.

The sale will kick off Jan. 25, when more than 7,500 girls between the ages of 6 and 18 begin taking orders for the seven varieties of cookies.

This year's cookie chairperson is Jeanne Wood of Canton Township, who noted that "the profits from the sale will be used to benefit individual Girl Scout troops and provide services and programming to the 12,000 girls served annually."

"In addition, the cookie sale proceeds are used to maintain and improve three camps used by the girls year-round," she said.

Heading the sale locally will be Janet Boldt, Linda Emard, Judy Schott, Lonnie Stevens and Mary Sue Deyo, who are among 37 area cookie chairman who train and coordinate the work of troop cookie chairmen. The latter train and work with the girls.

The council's goal is 723,000 boxes of cookies sold for delivery March 4 through 16.

Seven varieties of cookies will be available at $1.75 per box. They include a new one, lemon pastry cremes, as well as the traditional Thin Mints, Peanut Butter Patties, Shortbreads, Pecan Chocolate Chips, Peanut Butter Sandwiches and Carmel deLites.

The girls have been learning about and preparing for the sale by writing songs using the theme of Girl Scout cookies. Each girl or troop's song was then entered in a Cookie Song Contest. Winners were announced on Jan. 12 and 19 at cookie sale sing-a-longs, held at Plymouth Salem High School, Plymouth; Huron High School, New Boston; Ypsilanti High School, Ypsilanti; and Brighton High School, Brighton. Each girl entering received a special contest patch. Winners received a case of their favorite Girl Scout cookies.

Winners were selected in each of three Girl Scout program age levels — Brownies, 6, 7 and 8 years old; Juniors, 9, 10 and 11 years old, and Cadettes and Seniors, 12 to 18 years old. Categories for judging at the Brownie Girl Scout level include most factual, most creative, most humorous and best theme. Junior Girl Scout categories are most spirited, most factual, most creative and most humorous. Categories for Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts included most factual, most creative and most original.

The contest and sing-a-longs were developed to get the girls excited about the sale and eager to start taking cookie orders.

Brownie Troop 356 and Senior

Girl Scout Karen Sonntag of Troop 512 of the Wayne-Westland Area Girl Scouts were winners in the song contest.

The Brownie Troop and their leader, Loretta Burns, won in the most humorous category, while Sonntag won in the most original category.

Delicious!
Judy Schott, (from left), Mary Sue Deyo and Janet Boldt are ready to start counting the number of boxes of cookies sold by Girl Scouts in the Wayne-Westland area, beginning Jan. 25. The three women are serving as area cookie chairman as part of the 26th annual Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Cookie Sale.

Dance to benefit MD

The third annual Wayne Memorial Muscular Dystrophy Dance-a-thon, "Dance for those who can't," will be held from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. Friday in the Student Commons. The event is sponsored by the high school chapter of the Distributive Education Club of America (DECA) the Student Senate.

Pledge money is being collected from those who wish to sponsor dancers in the nine-hour "Super Dance." Any persons interested in donating to the cause can send checks payable to Wayne Memorial High School DECA, Wayne Memorial High School, 3001 Fourth St., Wayne 48184.

Refreshments will be served and merchandise will be auctioned off.

WCCC staffer earns BPW career honor

In her nine years with Wayne County Community College, Rosemary Knowles has done everything from assisting faculty members with lesson planning to serving as administrative secretary and assistant to the associate provost at the college's Western Wayne County campus.

Described as a self-starter and diligent individual, Knowles recently was selected as the Young Career Women of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club.

The honor is part of a national program of the organization, set up to recognize the accomplishments of successful young career women between the ages of 21 and 28, while introducing candidates to the ideals and standards of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Knowles was nominated for the honor by Milan M. Chonich, PhD, associate provost of the Western Wayne campus, who noted that she has "pursued her higher educational interest at the University of Michigan and continues to do so."

"She is an example of individuals whose determination and merits justify some recognition for her accomplishment to date," he wrote.

Knowles holds an associate of science degree in secretarial science and an associate of arts degree, both from WCCC. She currently is attending the Evening College of Business at the University of Michigan-Dearborn, where she is working towards completion of requirements for a bachelor of arts degree in business administration, which she anticipates receiving this June.

She also has participated in a human potential seminar —

"She is an example of individuals whose determination and merits justify some recognition..."

— Milan Chonich

training sessions designed to enhance her managerial skills.

A member of the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts, she joined the staff of WCCC in 1975, working as a student work assistant. In 1976 she became a part-time clerk, moving up to the position of clerk/typist 13 months later. In 1978 she worked as a secretary at the northwest and western campuses of the college, and in 1974. She was named an administrative coordinator for the western campus.

In September 1983 she was appointed administrative secretary and in March 1984 assumed the added responsibility of personnel clerk for central administration until September 1984. The latter position called for her preparing, filing, retrieving, maintaining and verifying the integrity and accuracy of all pre- and post-employment records.

Knowles lists her objective as "desiring a responsible and highly visible managerial position, where technical and managerial expertise will be utilized and people and problem solving skills will be challenged to their fullest."

Also a finalist for the honor was Linda Maton of Ann Arbor, an administrative assistant in the Department of Space Physics at the University of Michigan.

Maton, a 1974 graduate of Belleville High School, is currently enrolled in the associate of business administration degree program at Washtenaw Community College in Ypsilanti.

She has worked as a clerk, clerk II, clerk senior, purchasing stores clerk III and secretary III since joining the university's staff in December 1984. She was named an administrative assistant in August 1984 and is responsible for order processing, purchase order execution, vendor liaison, invoice auditing, order confirmation, payment notice processing, catalog library establishment and update and supervision of another employee.

Career minded

Rosemary Knowles, administrative secretary to the associate provost of the Western Wayne County campus of Wayne County Community College (right), has set her sights on district honors after being selected as Young Career Woman by the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club. Honoring Knowles at the club's January meeting was Ann Pavelka, young careerist chairman (left), and fellow nominee Linda Maton, an administrative assistant in the Department of Space Physics at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Knowles was honored for her selection at the club's January meeting, where she and Maton spoke to judges and members.

As the club's Young Career Woman, she will advance to the District program, where she will compete against seven other Young Careerists for the district honors. If successful, she will advance to the state competition in May.

Ship ahoy

Belleville residents Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Witherspoon are sporting tans this winter season, after a cruise aboard the TSS Carnivale. The couple posed on the Lido deck of the 27,000-ton ship just before sailing out of the port of Miami for a four-day cruise to the Bahamas, where they visited the capital city of Nassau and Freeport. During the cruise, the luxury liner spent a full day cruising the 700 Islands' chain.

Hospitality pays off

Cathy Hodge (center) of Garden City will have help with her schooling at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, thanks to a $2,000 scholarship from A & W Restaurants Inc. Hodge was one of nine scholarship recipients from throughout the United States, and the only one from the State of Michigan to receive the grant as part of the firm's Hospitality Program. She accepted the grant, and a plaque in recognition of the award, from Mike Little (right), A & W field service representative. On hand was Dennis Andus, owner of the A & W Restaurant on Ford Road in Garden City, where Cathy is an employee. She plans on majoring in business communications at Central.

Reaume—Lilly exchange vows

Ten guests were in attendance in Bloomington, Minnesota, for the nuptial of Linda Lee Reaume of New Boston and Royal P. Lilly Jr. of Bloomington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander of New Boston. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal P. Lilly Sr., also of New Boston.

Serving as maid of honor at the double ring ceremony was Shelly McKenzie, while the duties of best man were performed by Dean McKenzie.

A formal wedding reception for the newlyweds will be held this spring in Michigan and will be hosted by their respective parents.

The couple honeymooned in Fort Lauderdale, Florida for four days before returning to Bloomington, where they are now living.

The new Mrs. Lilly is a 1980 graduate of Huron High School. She attended Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo and currently is employed as a dental assistant in Minneapolis.

Her husband is a 1977 graduate of Huron High School. He received his bachelor of science degree from Western Michigan University and currently is employed as a systems engineer with Republic Airlines in Minneapolis. He is a member of the 191st Fighter Interceptor Group of the Michigan Air National Guard.

Church hosts women's retreat

St. Michael Lutheran Church in Wayne is planning its first mini-women's retreat Saturday, Feb. 9, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The theme is "Patterns of Mothering." Since the topic is universal and non-denominational, co-chairmen Rosie Braun and Joan Ollinger are extending an open invitation to the community.

Elise Arndt, author of "A Mother's Touch," will be the featured speaker. She will share her experiences in loving, caring, and teaching.

Besides the keynote speakers, four small group sessions will meet in the afternoon. Arndt will lead one on mothering in the early years. Ruth Schlecht, wife of the Michigan District Missouri Synod President Richard Schlecht, will lead a group on children leaving the nest. Patti Getyina, a member of Christ the Good Shepherd in Canton, will head a discussion on mothering alone and handling children with medical problems. The fourth group will feature Verna Hinck of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who will share her experiences of being widowed suddenly.

Music, skits and a luncheon will add to a memorable day. Pre-registration is suggested, with a $5 donation to cover expenses.

Send your name and address, along with the speaker topic you're most interested in, to Gerry Lynn Robson, 6764 Sheldon Road, Belleville 48111.

Questions regarding the retreat may be directed to her at 697-9241 or the church office at 728-1950.

St. Michael is located at the corner of Glenwood and Hanna Road in Wayne, north of Michigan Avenue and west of Newburgh Road.

Laser Beam Surgery

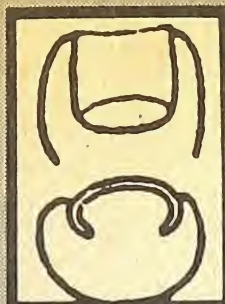

Laser beam surgery is a new and improved modality for the treatment of conventional foot ailments. Laser beam surgery has proven to be safe and effective in the allied medical fields such as ophthalmology, gynecology and now, podiatry.

Foot Problems Solved by Laser Light

In Podiatry, a considerable variety of foot ailments can be treated with the laser

SOME OF THE CONDITIONS
NOW SUCCESSFULLY
BEING TREATED BY LASERS

INGROWN NAILS

The corner of the nail and root is vaporized which is the cause of the problem.

WARTS

Laser beam is used to evaporate instead of cutting the wart, thus eliminating growth and recurrence.

FUNGUS NAILS

Normally a painful operation with cutting the laser vaporizes the nail which is quicker and less painful. It also sterilizes and destroys the fungus.

PLANTERS CORNS

With this process deep seated corns on the bottom of the foot are vaporized.

WE ARE ALSO NOW ACCEPTING NEW PATIENTS FOR

Conventional Medical & Surgical Treatment of Foot & Ankle Disorders (Adult & Children)

- Bunions
- Corns
- Hammer Toes
- Vascular Disorder of Feet & Ankle
- Diabetic Feet
- Heel Spurs & Heel Pain
- Sports Related Injuries
- Infant In Toe & Out Toe
- Fractures of the foot & ankle

WHAT IS LASER PODIATRY?

The surgical laser effectively removes unwanted tissue due to the energy emitted by the laser beam and works by absorbing the water tissue. The major difference in laser podiatry and conventional surgery is that normal cutting is sometimes not necessary.

LASER PODIATRY NOW AVAILABLE

We are one of a few physicians to incorporate this new medical treatment, which can help eliminate fear of conventional surgery.

CANCELLATIONS AND CORRECTIONS

Read your ad carefully the first time it appears, and report any errors before the next edition. This will be the only proof you will receive. Errors should be reported immediately, as Associated Newspapers, Inc. can be responsible for the first incorrect insertion only. NO CASH REFUNDS WILL BE MADE.

PUBLICATION POLICY

The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject and properly classify advertising submitted for publication. Publisher shall not be held liable for typographical errors except to the extent of the cost of first insertion and then only for that portion of ad that may have been rendered valueless by such error. Advertisers are advised to check their ad immediately after it appears in the paper and report at once any error found. Claims for error adjustment must be made immediately after ad is published.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD

1. IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the item or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, it's better to start your advertisement with the location.
2. BE CLEAR. Readers react more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the most important considerations of any advertisement is to include the price.
3. MAKE IT EASY for the reader to reach you. ALWAYS INSERT your telephone number or your name and address if you do not have regular hours, state a preferred time to have prospects contact you.
4. PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good classified ad.
5. CLASSIFIED READERS are already interested in buying used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are in the market to buy. Give them every advantage you can with good copy.
6. CLASSIFIED ADS THAT FAIL do so not through a lack of readers, but because they often contain unneeded and do not contain enough information to prompt action.
